

JANCIS ROBINSON 2015

- Dom Cordier Père & Fils, Aux Bois d'Allier 2014 Mâcon

Broad and rich on the nose. Really quite sumptuous and concentrated with good grip. Not the most complex white burgundy but GV.

Light, sweet and smoky on the nose. Lots of structure and refreshment factor. Should age well. Really marked acidity.

Quite voluptuous, sweet and heady. Wears its heart on its sleeve. Big and bold and chock-full of fruit. Dramatic! Long. GV

Big, crème-pâtissière nose. Round and vital with lots of sweetness. Super-charming nose. Bags of flattery. Just the job for those sick of skinniness. GV

Rich with just a hint of matchstick. Very rich start, almost botrytis-like ! But not at all fat. Lots of tension too. Well done ! Very much of a style. Hint of Thévenet...

More structure and restraint than his other 2014s. Lots to chew on. Very much a long-term wine.
