

2011 Cordier Macon Fuisse Bois de la Roche

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
Macon, Maconnais, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

87

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Macon-Fuisse Bois de la Roche has an attractive bouquet with lime flower, honeysuckle and apricot aromas that are feminine and well-defined. The palate is quite sensual with exotic white peach, apricot and quince notes on the entry. It is very rich, certainly very commercial with a New World sheen, although it is missing a little typicite. Still, you will finish a bottle without complaint.

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

2011 Cordier Macon Loche

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
Macon, Maconnais, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

90

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Macon-Loche has a very refined, appealing bouquet with light honeysuckle and lime pith notes that show great clarity. The palate is well-balanced with apricot and quince on the entry. There is a fine line of acidity, lovely marmalade and quince notes furnishing the finish that caresses the mouth. This is just a lovely Macon calling out for a warm summer's day.

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

2011 Cordier Pouilly Fuisse Vignes Blanches

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
Pouilly Fuisse, Maconnais, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

90+

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Pouilly-Fuisse Les Vignes Blanches has a well-defined bouquet with pure scents of honeysuckle, beeswax and lime that blossom in the glass. The palate is fresh and vital on the entry, although it never really builds on that opening and finishes "safe" with lemon curd and apricot notes. I wonder if it is biding its time?

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

2011 Cordier Pouilly Fuisse Vers Cras

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
Pouilly Fuisse, Maconnais, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

93

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Pouilly-Fuisse Vers Cras has a pleasant bouquet of apple blossom, acacia and honeysuckle that unfolds nicely in the glass. The palate is well-balanced with a fine line of acidity with gorgeous quince and mango notes lining the plump but delineated finish. Excellent!

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

[] Add to Print List

2011 Cordier Pouilly Fuisse Vieilles Vignes

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
Pouilly Fuisse, Maconnais, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

92

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Pouilly-Fuisse Vieilles Vignes has a well-defined bouquet with nicely integrated oak: hints of passion fruit, quince and dried herbs. The palate is crisp and fresh with orange cordial and passion fruit notes, well-judged acidity and a lovely build toward its apricot and quince-infused finish. This is very cohesive and well-crafted.

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

2011 Cordier Saint Veran en Faux

A Chardonnay Dry White Table wine from
St Veran, Burgundy, France

Source	Reviewer	Rating	Maturity	Current (Release) Cost
--------	----------	--------	----------	------------------------------

Aug 2013

Neal Martin

89

Drink: N/A

The 2011 Saint Veran En Faux offers a simple, green apple peel and pear bouquet that needs a little more vigor. The palate is fresh and clean on the entry with citrus lemon and orange zest, light honeysuckle notes emerging toward the composed finish. Fine.

Christophe Cordier's wines are highly regarded and in blind tastings his Pouilly-Fuisse wines were right at the top. I tasted both the domaine and the negociant offerings.

[] Add to Print List

